Vendor Due Diligence (Per Vendor)

Performing due diligence on third-party service providers, especially vendors that store or process confidential business or investor data, is critical to the success of any cyber or information security framework in today's business environment. Financial industry regulators have frequently stressed the importance of performing vendor due diligence and routinely request information related to third-party due diligence assessments during examinations. Increasing reliance on third-party expertise in the industry means both risk exposure and regulatory oversight will continue to expand.

RFA recommends that clients include processes for performing due diligence on vendors that are designated as providing critical functions into the Firm's Information Security Policy and execute the process on an annual or better cadence. To support this initiative, RFA will leverage our custom-developed questionnaire to request responses and corresponding evidence from the vendor(s) as designated by the Firm.

Deliverables:

- RFA will evaluate response submissions from the company and deliver a report detailing any findings and incorporating risk classification.
- RFA will schedule a conference call to discuss findings and review the Report document.

Considerations:

- Contingent on company providing responses and supporting documentation.
- Deliverable is analysis of company responses and report with identified risks, immediate expenditures of for out-of-date infrastructure, security deficiencies and recommended mitigation solution.
- Includes conference call per risk report to discuss findings and any questions.

Notes

- Discovery will be required, project deliverables and fees subject to change.
- Any work outside of the project deliverables is out of scope and will be billed at Time and Material rates.
- Any additional requirements or modifications will require a separate engagement and may incur additional costs.
- If applicable, users must be available during the scheduled enrollment phase of the project. Users who are not available during the enrollment phase will be excluded from the process. Enrollment of users outside of the timeframe is not included in this project. The enrollment period of end-user devices spans a maximum of 5 days.
- If applicable, user acceptance testing will be up to 7 days. Once completed, any changes to policies will be billed at Time and Material rates.
- The client will review and confirm within five business days that there are no issues with the project at which point the project will be completed. Any additional work after completion will be BAU work and billed as T&M or against any applicable support agreements you may have.
